

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 29.

SNORING IS A CRIME.—The cocaine effects of the new law legalizing two drunks a year in Massachusetts has had the result of bestirring police court officers and magistrates to activity to secure convictions. Some of the results are funny. In Cambridge yesterday morning there were twelve undesirable drunks on hand, but none could be fined for drunkenness under the new law. The Judge found a way to fine eleven of them for disorderly conduct. One will serve as a sample. He had tired of "toting" his burden around and was noisily sleeping when arrested. He had sobered up, but he had been asleep and snored so that he could be heard on the street. He was disorderly; he was fined and the Judge smacked his lips for more.

BROKEN TWO.—One of the most remarkable mishaps that ever befell a vessel anywhere happened to the schooner Michigan, unloading coal at Chicago. While lying at her dock yesterday she broke in two with a report that sounded like that of a cannon. At midnight she is well out of water, while both her bow and stern lie deep in the river. The unloading against the captain's protest, had taken out the coal from the midships section, leaving it in both bow and stern. The Michigan is one of the largest schooners in the lakes, being 271 feet long and 41 feet wide. No person was on board at the time of the strange smash-up.
